OVERVIEW

Want to Change the World? Here's How. Understanding the Conscious, Loving, Interconnected, Abundant nature of the Universe is a key to Peace on Earth.

Paradigm-shifters Andrew Cameron Bailey and Connie Baxter Marlow are visionary filmmakers, futurists and social philosophers who envision a positive future for humanity. Coming from divergent life experiences, they have reached similar conclusions: the prevailing paradigm is missing important information about the nature of reality. They challenge a number of basic assumptions which have driven humanity's behavior for millennia.

Connie and Andrew speak from a reality in which the following assumptions are absolute: we live in an infinitely conscious, loving, inter-connected, and abundant Universe where free will and the power of thought create the life we experience.

Their uplifting vision is a bold synthesis of contemporary quantum science and indigenous cosmology, and proposes practical solutions to the dilemmas that face humanity. They foresee a completely new and unprecedented world: one of peace, harmony and abundance, which has never before existed on Earth.

Bailey and Marlow's inspiring, inclusive, universal approach makes their message accessible to audiences of all ages, from all walks of life. They are available internationally for speaking engagements, often appearing in association with screenings of their film IN SEARCH OF THE FUTURE: What Do The Wise Ones Know? They are frequently accompanied by one or more of the Wise Ones featured in the film.

Biographies

Connie Baxter Marlow (BA) grew up in Maine, the descendent of Mayflower Pilgrims, visionary philanthropists and politicians, and graduated from UC Berkeley with an honors degree in Economics in 1968. Following an epiphany in the late 80's Connie has developed a unique and inspiring world-view, distilled from two decades of interaction with visionary Native American elders in North America and Mexico, for whom she creates forums to share their understanding of the nature of the Universe.

Connie has been speaking at colleges, universities, high schools and conferences for over 15 years, proposing paradigm-shifting solutions ranging from her new economic theory, a radical take on the events of September 11, 2001, the true nature of the human spirit, the inevitability of peace on earth, the role of Henry David Thoreau in the evolution of democracy, and the spiritual destiny of America. Given the name Eagle Woman in a vision, Connie was instructed to "fly very high and report back all that you see." The mother of three grown children, she joyfully shares her extraordinary vision with willing ears. Visit her website: www.TheAmericanEvolution.com.

Andrew Cameron Bailey (BSc, BA, MA) was born in England, and grew up in Durban, South Africa, where he studied the arts, sciences and anthropology, and lectured in Mathematics and Chemistry. In 1969 Andrew left the life of a South African college teacher and set sail for Santa Cruz, California, where he met and studied with major players in the emerging consciousness revolution. It was there that he first experienced his vision of the destiny of humanity.

Andrew embarked on the Sufi path in 1974, married a South African jazz dancer, and raised five children amid African dance and drumming in New York. He spent the 80s and 90s in New York, studying African music, native wisdom, world religions, yoga and Sufism, and developing his cosmology. In 2004, he moved to Sedona, Arizona, with his partner, Connie, where they have just completed the ground-breaking speculative documentary IN SEARCH OF THE FUTURE: What Do The Wise Ones Know?

There Is Only Love

Talks, Lectures and Articles ( a selection)

The New Equation

In the year 1907, Einstein gave us the well-known formula  $E = mc^2$  and a new way of perceiving reality. A century later, a new equation is emerging:  $qR + IC = CLU$ .

Quantum Reality + Indigenous Cosmology = The Conscious Loving Universe!

The synthesis of quantum science and indigenous wisdom brings us to a new understanding of the nature of the Universe. It's alive, it's conscious, and it loves us! Everything in the Universe is totally inter-connected. Absolutely everything! That includes you, and it includes me. There is no other place to be. There is only Love. It is our lack of understanding of the nature of that Love that makes us see certain things as not-love.

The Conscious Loving Universe

What is the true nature of the Universe? How does speculative quantum physics confirm the ancient indigenous world-view: all is connected in a web of life-affirming consciousness? How did this Universe arrive at such a perfect balance, without which sentient life would have been impossible? If all things are connected in space and time, could the "connective fluid" (The Quantum Vacuum, the Unified Field, the Matrix) be the universal power we call Love? The religions of the world all assert: "God is Love." What if that Love, the Unified Field, and God are simply different names for one and the same thing, the Conscious, Loving Universe?

Indigenous Cosmology: From Left Field to Center Stage

We live in an exciting time, a time when Western society is beginning to realize the validity of timeless native wisdom. Since Einstein, our science has been confirming what the visionary elders and shamans of the non-Western cultures have known for millennia: all life is inter-connected, and consciousness pervades everything. It is time to base our actions on this understanding and move into alignment with the balance, beauty, abundance and joy that is our birthright.

The Great Awakening

Pierre Teilhard de Chardin predicted, almost a century ago, that human consciousness would someday reach a state which he called the Omega Point. He even foresaw the development of the Internet. The quantum physics concept of critical mass applied to the noosphere, and the indigenous concept of the Great Awakening both point to an imminent quantum leap in consciousness, accompanied by a new vision of reality.

With that comes the end of war, poverty, racism and disease.

Conscious Evolution

Human consciousness has reached the point predicted by Pierre Teilhard de Chardin almost a hundred years ago. We can now choose to co-operate with the evolutionary upward spiral of life on Earth and beyond. In fact we must, if humanity is to have a positive future.

Accessing The Trust Frequency

This is the place where the soul's destiny awaits, with more abundance, balance, freedom and joy than we can fathom. We create our own reality, which means we are each responsible for the circumstances of our lives. We can create a life of grace and ease, beauty and balance through understanding the vibratory frequencies of thought and action, by aligning ourselves with The Conscious Loving Universe.

Thoreau, the Native American and the Future

We take Henry David Thoreau the next step, by examining the man, his life and his work from a different perspective, from a future the American transcendentalist foresaw, looking back in time. In his writing Thoreau alludes to the future, to the possible human, and to the importance of the message carried by the arrowhead from the indigenous past. We show the spiritual Thoreau and the Indian he experienced, and offer some profound ideas to ponder. We suggest a synthesis from which we can open to an expanded reality and elevate the human potential to the place modeled by Thoreau.

Free Will & the Soul's Journey to Wholeness (or, why The Secret doesn't always work)

Incarnation on Earth implies permission granted to pursue one's soul's journey to wholeness. We agree to come to Earth to bring a gift. These two agreements activate our destiny path on a high frequency. We are born into a lower frequency existence, where we develop goals and desires. The Universe honors our initial commitment. If we align with our higher purpose, we get what we ask for. If we are out of alignment with that purpose, we get what we need, to honor our original agreement.

Changing One's Assumptions, Changing One's Mind

When we take every assumption we have been taught about the nature of the Universe, of reality. Imagine its exact opposite, and we will be closer to understanding the true nature of the Universe, resulting in a completely new set of fundamental assumptions.

Apply these new assumptions to our lives, to everyday action, and we will find ourselves in a new world.

America: The First Fifty Years

A great nation began with the meeting of two divergent cultures, English and Indian, on the edge of a vast wilderness. At Plymouth Colony, two visionary leaders led their people in peace and friendship for 50 years. It was an inspiring exception to the human condition then, and now. A shared vision of freedom of conscience, of trust in a higher power and the intrinsic value of the individual laid the groundwork for humanity to actualize its greatest potential.

The Secret Purpose of History

There has been a hidden purpose to history that will be revealed as humanity continues its role as a key player in the evolution of consciousness. Every event that we call history, and every personal experience, has been the playing out of the consciousness of unconditional Love coming to understand itself. There are two aspects to every action; a high vibration purpose, which is hidden from view from most, and a lower vibration purpose which is very evident and sometimes quite discouraging. It is our personal choice which vibratory level one puts one's attention on, thereby creating one's individual reality.

A Glossary of Terms

Consciousness: The inner awareness of all things seen and unseen.

Love: The primary power of the Universe. The energy of unconditional Love pervades all things and creates and guides all experience.

Unconditional: The energy of Love MUST provide everything asked of it.

Interconnected: Everything in existence is part of a single living evolving organism, the Universe.

Abundant: Scarcity is a man-made concept. There is limitless abundance of all things.

Universe: ALL THAT IS with no beginning and no end.

Free Will: The inalienable right to choose our attitudes, our beliefs, and our actions.

Thought: The sole creator of individual and collective reality. The Universe is more like a thought than a thing, according to quantum science.

The Conscious Loving Universe: God, Jahweh, Brahma, Allah, The Unified Field, ALL THAT IS.

Connecting in Sedona

By Staff Writer | Sedona.biz

Connie Baxter Marlow & Andrew Cameron Bailey
speak at the Ringing Rocks Foundation

Last night at the Ringing Rocks Foundation in Sedona, a full house sat nodding and smiling as Andrew Cameron Bailey and Connie Baxter Marlow, owners of the Page Springs Institute and the Page Springs Bed & Breakfast, explained what they've learned after years of studying and living among various indigenous cultures, in a lecture entitled "Indigenous Cosmology: from Left Field to Center Stage."

Despite the daunting nature of their subject, the couple explained their philosophy in a clear, concise, and relaxed way: It's a conscious, loving universe. They helped the sophisticated audience by defining some key terms, offering their own personal experiences, and sharing relevant quotes from the likes of Jesus, Einstein, Lakota Elder Wallace Black Elk, and Hopi visionary David Monongye.

The essence of their message is that our society has lost its connectedness to the universe, a connectedness found in traditional cultures like the San Bushmen of the Kalahari, the Maya, and the Hopi, and that we can recover that connectedness via a simple change of our fundamental assumptions.

The couple believes this loss of inner wisdom is the result of modern science's mechanistic attempt to understand our universe by deconstructing it.

According to Connie, Grandfather Elder Black Elk would often say, "The universe is conscious and alive. We are born knowing everything, but most people spend their time focusing on only that small portion that they can see and hear."

Said Connie, "The universe is total abundance and unconditional love, but in school we're taught the opposite. We base our lives on the assumption of scarcity. This has led us to hoard everything and view others as separate from ourselves. This is what leads to war.

Can you imagine what would happen if we felt connected to every living thing? If we shot someone, we'd be shooting ourselves. War would become absurd. This simple awareness can change us in an instant."

The couple also believes that scientific knowledge is finally coming full circle to an understanding of indigenous cosmology via the advent of quantum physics which is totally changing the way we see the world.

Said Andrew, "If we understand that mass and energy are interchangeable, we will realize that we can influence our surroundings with our thoughts. We create our own reality, whether we like the result or not."

As this writer left the lecture, I recalled the Albert Einstein gem quoted by Connie: "No problem was ever solved in the same consciousness in which it was created."

Listening to Connie and Andrew speak was a first step towards a new consciousness.

About the Speakers

Andrew Cameron Bailey was raised amongst the Zulu during the apartheid era. In 1969 Andrew left the life of a South African college professor and immigrated to California where he met and studied with major players in the emerging consciousness revolution. More recently, he co-founded the non-profit Indigenous Heritage, Ltd. organization which works with such groups as the San Bushmen of the Kalahari.

Connie Baxter Marlow has spent extensive time with visionary Native American elders and tribes throughout the United States and Mexico over the past 30 years. She has been creating forums for them to share their understanding of the nature of the universe through lectures, ceremonies, films and photography exhibits around the United States and Mexico.

Andrew and Connie own the Page Springs Institute and Page Springs Bed and Breakfast just south of Sedona, where the room themes honor the people of the indigenous cultures Connie and Andrew have come to know and love – the First People of Africa, and the tribal people of North America and Mexico. The Kalahari Room, the Maya Suite, the Kokopelli-Hopi Suite, The Sinagua Suite and the Maui Room, with related photography and artifacts, offer a "memorable cultural experience" to guests at the B&B, a place to relax as well as to explore the nature of the universe if one chooses.

Marlow & Bailey present uplifting world view

Connie Baxter Marlow and Andrew Cameron Bailey, photographers, filmmakers and writers, will present aspects of their uplifting world view in a talk at the World Fellowship Church in Cottonwood on April 30 at 1 p.m.. The World Fellowship Church meets at the Verde Valley Guidance Clinic on South Willard Road in Cottonwood. Both Marlow and Bailey will give a brief presentation at the 10 a.m. service of the church. A potluck will follow at 11:30. The community is invited to join in the potluck and stay for the afternoon presentation.

Marlow and Bailey are collaborating on a soon-to-be-published book: "The Conscious Loving Universe: A Guidebook to the Emerging New World," and a film entitled "In Search of the Future: Where have we been? Where are we going? What do the Wise Ones Know?" The couple believes they are bringing a unique piece of information about the nature of the universe, which will allow us to take in and act upon the understanding that there is nothing in the universe but love. "It is our lack of understanding of the nature of love that has us see aspects of it as "not-love." Bailey and Marlow concur.

Connie Baxter Marlow will speak on "The Secret Purpose of History." In her "knowing" Marlow understands there has been a secret purpose of history that will be revealed as humanity continues its role as a key player in the evolution of consciousness.

"For me, every event of history and every personal experience has been the playing out of "the consciousness of unconditional love coming to understand itself," she said. "There are two purposes to every action - a high vibration purpose that is hidden from view for most, and the lower vibration which is very evident and sometimes discouraging.

"Sometimes I feel as though I can read the handwriting on the wall because I only see the high side of things. It is very real to me, it is my reality. I may be deluded, but it sure is a fun place to live," Connie said.

Andrew Cameron Bailey will speak on "The Conscious Loving Universe." Bailey is a scientist, anthropologist and visionary whose life experiences have afforded him a broad and deep look at humanity's journey. Born in England, raised in South Africa amongst the Zulu, Andrew became a university chemistry professor, before leaving South Africa in 1969 and sailing across the Atlantic for the New World. It was in California in 1970 in his mid-20s that Andrew met and came to know major players in the consciousness revolution and he, himself, had a vision of the higher aspects of humanity's potential.

"It's exciting to watch quantum science lead the logical mind to the place the heart has known all along," Bailey said. "The Sufis, the mystics, the rishis, the prophets, the indigenous shamans have all described a reality beyond the confines of traditional science. Now, with a shift in consciousness, a deepening of understanding, we have the tools to reinvent our world."

Marlow has been a seeker all her life. Raised a Baxter in Maine, Connie was influenced by her courageous and visionary ancestors who lived and acted "according to the dictates of their hearts" as governors, mayors and philanthropists. They gave away mountains, they championed women, they lost elections for what they believed in. They led Connie on a path that took her to an economics degree at Berkley in 1968 and to the indigenous peoples and their cosmology and quantum physics. It was with the indigenous peoples that she discovered clues to what she and Bailey have dubbed "The Conscious Loving Universe."

When Andrew and Connie met in 2003 at the Omega Institute in Rhinebeck, New York, at a gathering of shamans it was immediately evident that the meeting had been "pre-planned." In their first all-night conversation they discovered that they shared a common perspective from which they, each in their unique way, see the "big picture" unfolding on Earth.

The Marlow/Bailey team has recently opened Page Springs Bed and Breakfast in peaceful Page Springs near Sedona. This unique B&B on eight acres with two homes and a barn with gallery and library has been called a "cultural experience". Photographs and artifacts from the indigenous peoples Bailey and Marlow have come to know and love grace the walls of the Kalahari Room, the Maya Suite, the Kokopelli-Hopi Suite and the Maui Room.
